NEW YORK METS 1998
INFORMATION GUIDE

ON THE COVER

CLOCKWISE FROM UPPER LEFT HAND CORNER: METS MANAGER BOBBY VALENTINE, REY ORDONEZ, JOHN OLERUD, BUTCH HUSKEY, BOBBY JONES AND EDGARDO ALFONZO.

It's really the Forgotten Miracle.

Every New York Mets' fan vividly can recall the most minute detail of that glorious season of 1969 when Manager Gil Hodges' team shocked the foundations of baseball with a World Series victory over the powerful Baltimore Orioles.

An almost equally shocking miracle occurred 25 years ago this summer when the Mets rallied for their second National League pennant in four years. However, Miracle II is never regarded by historians with the same kind of reverence as is Miracle I. Isn't that right Tug McGraw?

"It's really easy to understand," said Tug, a lefthanded relief star on both Miracle Mets' squads. "In 1969 we were 'Basement Bertha,' in last place practically the entire decade. We were the people's favorite, the Underdog's Underdog."

"But you can't overlook what we did in 1973 either," McGraw went on. "I think why people talk about the 1969 team is quite simple. They won the whole thing, while we lost to Oakland in the seventh game of the World Series. If we had won the last game against the A's, I think our place in history would have been a lot different."

Late in the 1973 season, it appeared that the Mets, managed by Yogi Berra, would have no chance at all to be playing anyone in post-season. On August 5th, New York dropped a doubleheader to the Cardinals at Shea by scores of 3-2 and 4-1. The two losses dropped the Mets into last place with a 48-61 record, 11.5 games out of first.

"We never panicked, not one bit," McGraw recalled. "In 1969, we were a young group of guys trying to find ourselves. In 1973, we were a veteran group who knew where we were going. Don't forget we were behind by 9.5 games on August 13th in 1969 and made up that deficit, too."

The Mets found a way to win despite the fact they only hit 85 home runs, stole 27 bases, hit .246 and were in last place as late as August 30th.

New York was superb down the stretch as it posted a 34-19 record over its final 53 games to capture the NL East crown with a 6-4 victory over the Cubs at Wrigley Field on October 1st. Rusty Staub's four hits sparked a 13-hit attack as Tom Seaver was the winner and McGraw picked up the save.

No one was more spectacular down the stretch than Tug. In his final 19 games, he picked up 12 saves, five victories and posted an 0.88 ERA.

McGraw was more than the Mets' best relief pitcher in 1973. He was the spiritual leader of the team and his slogan 'You Gotta Believe' was the unifying cry in the clubhouse in August and September.

However, as you hear Tug tell the story today, "You Gotta Believe" wasn't entirely his own idea. In fact, the genesis of the cry almost got him into deep trouble with the team's Chairman of the Board, M. Donald Grant.

On the afternoon of July 9th, Tug had lunch with a friend, Joe Badamo, who was a teacher of positive thinking. Prior to the game that night with the Astros, Grant called a meeting with the team to let the Mets know he still believed in them. "It was really weird in a way, Mr. Grant and I both came to the park that day with the same idea to let the team know we still believed in them," said Tug. "I was a young kid from Long Island and he was a millionaire owner, but we both had the same thoughts."

"After he was done speaking, I ran around the clubhouse yelling 'You Gotta Believe, You Gotta Believe.' Well, Mr. Grant told me later he thought I was mocking his speech. I apologized to him and told him from the bottom of the heart we were on the same page. He said the only way I could make it up to him was to win the pennant."

Well, that's exactly what the Mets did.

FIVE KEY GAMES IN 1973

AUGUST 6TH, METS 10 CARDINALS 3

The Mets enter the game against first place St. Louis in last place, 11 games back. Down, 3-1, in the sixth inning at Shea, New York rallies back for a 10-3 rout. Wayne Garrett's two-run single in the seventh broke a 3-3 tie and a five-run eighth iced the game. Harry Parker pitched three scoreless innings of relief to earn the victory for starter George Stone. Garrett was 3-5 with three RBI, while Felix Millan, Rusty Staub and Jerry Grote each contributed two hits.

SEPTEMBER 18TH, METS 6 PIRATES 5

Still three games back in the standings, the Mets find themselves in a "must win" situation, coming off a 10-3 loss at first-place Pittsburgh a night earlier. Things looked bleak as the Pirates enter the ninth inning, leading, 4-1. With one down, Millan belted a two-run triple to center, cutting the Bucs lead to one. Following a walk to Staub and some managerial jockeying between Danny Murtaugh and Yogi Berra, Ron Hodges hit a pinch single off Dave Giusti, scoring Millan with the tying run and pushing Staub into scoring position. Following a walk to Cleon Jones, Don Hahn ripped a single to center scoring Staub and pinch-runner Teddy Martinez to give the Mets a 6-4 lead. Buzz Capra worked his way out of a bases loaded jam in the bottom of the ninth and New York held on for a 6-5 win. McGraw earned the triumph.

SEPTEMBER 20, METS 4 PIRATES 3 (13 INNINGS)

"Ball off the Wall Miracle"

The Mets enter the night with a chance to cut the Bucs' lead to half a game, but have their backs to the wall, trailing, 3-2, in the bottom of the ninth. With two out and Ken Boswell on second, Duffy Dyer hits a double to left scoring the tying run and sending the game into extra innings. The score is still tied in the 13th, when Dave Augustine comes to the plate with Richie Zisk on first and two out. Augustine hits a long drive to left that looks like it is going to be a two-run home run. Instead, the ball hits the top of the wall and bounces straight in the air directly to Cleon Jones, who fires a perfect strike to cut-off man Wayne Garrett. Garrett whirled and made his own perfect peg to catcher Ron Hodges who put the tag on Zisk to miraculously end the threat. In the bottom of the frame, Hodges singles home John Milner with the game-winner.

SEPTEMBER 21, METS 10 PIRATES 2

New York jumps on Pirates' starter Steve Blass for four, first inning runs and Tom Seaver hurls a complete game as the Mets move into first place to stay with a 10-2 triumph. Garrett and Grote sparked the offense with three hits each.

OCTOBER 1, METS 6 CUBS 4 (GAME ONE OF A DOUBLEHEADER)

Staub's four hits spark a 13-hit attack as New York clinches it's second National League East title with a 6-4 win. Fittingly, Seaver earns the win and McGraw comes on for the save.

AND THE NAME IS...

"The name is METS...just plain Mets."

The name Mets was judged by club owner Joan Payson as the one that best met five basic criteria:

1) It met public and press acceptance;
2) It was closely related to the team's corporate name (Metropolitan Baseball Club, Inc);
3) It was descriptive of the metropolitan area;
4) It had a brevity that delighted copy readers everywhere;
5) It had historical background, referring to the Metropolitans of the 19th century American Association.

Other names considered included Rebels, Skyliners, NYBs, Burros (for the five boroughs), Continentals, Avengers...As well as Jets and Islanders, names that would eventually find their way into the New York sports scene.

THE METS LOGO

The circular Mets logo, designed by sports cartoonist Ray Gatto and unveiled on November 16, 1961, has gone unchanged throughout the history of the club. The shape of the insignia, with its orange stitching, represents a baseball, and the bridge in the foreground symbolizes that the Mets, in bringing back the National League to New York, represent all five boroughs. It's not just a skyline in the background, but has special meaning. At the left is a church spire, symbolic of Brooklyn, the borough of churches. The second building from the left is the Williamsburg Savings Bank, the tallest building in Brooklyn. Next is the Woolworth Building. After a general skyline view of midtown comes the Empire State Building. At the far right is the United Nations Building.

SHEA STADIUM'S LONGEST HOME RUNS

It is generally perceived that Tommie Agee hit the longest home run in the history of Shea Stadium on April 10, 1969. In the second inning, Agee hit a drive into the upper deck in leftfield off the Expos' Larry Jaster, the only fair ball in the Stadium's 33-year history to reach the upper deck.

Dave Kingman had several monumental blasts at Shea, including one that cleared the back fence in leftfield (which is 488 feet away from home) and reached the parking lot.

Darryl Strawberry pelted the rightfield scoreboard many times, including a moon shot off the Dodgers' Fernando Valenzuela on May 22, 1987. Straw also hit monster shots off the Reds' Jack Armstrong, July 7, 1988 and off the Astros' Dave Smith, July 19, 1986.

Other big blasts of note are: Leon Durham breaking a window in the player's parking lot off Mark Bomback in 1980 and Bobby Bonilla hitting a bus off Jeff Innis on Opening Day, 1990. Richie Allen also cracked a couple of extremely long home runs at Shea.

SELF SUPPORT

In the entire 36-year history of the club, only twice has a Mets pitcher belted a grand slam home run.

The first one came in the club's second season on July 15, 1963. Frank Thomas, Joe Hicks and Larry Burright were the runners when Carl Willey belted a drive over the Polo Grounds right field wall off Houston's Ken Johnson. The home run came in the second inning of the Mets' 14-5 win over the Colt 45s, and also represented the first home run ever by a Mets' pitcher.

Four years later, on May 20, 1967, Jack Hamilton blasted a bases-loaded home run at Shea off St. Louis' Al Jackson. Tommy Davis, Ken Boyer and Jerry Grote marched home ahead of Hamilton, who connected in the second inning of the Mets' 11-9 loss to the Cards.

And it hasn't happened since.

BAD LUCK BOB

Like many of the Original Mets, Bob L. Miller had a rough season in 1962. He was hounded by reporters as he was 0-12 before finally winning tossing a complete-game win in his final start, September 29th at Chicago. At that point in the season, only one reporter, Jack Lang, was still covering the team. Unfortunately for Miller, even in triumph, his bad luck continued, as Lang was so busy filing reports for all the other papers that afternoon, he never got down to the locker room to speak to the victor. Miller was heard wondering aloud, "Where are those guys now?".

THE BIG COMEBACK

Come-from-behind victories have always been a big part of Mets history. Possibly the most dramatic in club history came on September 13, 1997 when New York overcame a 6-0 ninth-inning deficit to overtake the Expos, 9-6, in 11 innings. In that contest, Carl Everett's grand slam with two out in the ninth inning tied the game and Bernard Gilkey's pinch-hit three-run home run in the 11th was the game-winner.

However, the biggest comeback triumph in club annals came on September 2, 1972 when the Mets trailed the Houston Astros, 8-0, after seven innings. Sparked by Ken Boswell's three-run home run, the Mets sent 12 batters to the plate in the eighth, exploding for seven runs and cutting the deficit to 8-7. In the ninth, New York would bat around again, scoring four runs. Cleon Jones' two-run double was the deciding blow as the Mets posted the greatest come-from-behind win in club history.

- Had arthroscopic surgery on his left shoulder on November 6, 1997...This surgery was also performed by Dr. Altchek at the Hospital for Special Surgery.
- His last start of the season was September 16th at Philadelphia...His final four appearances of the season were as a pinch-hitter and he was 1-4 in those games.
- Hit his 30th home run of the season in the second inning against the Phillies' Mike Grace at Shea on September 8th...Became the first Met to reach the 30-home run plateau in consecutive seasons since Darryl Strawberry had 39 in both 1987 and 1988 (Hundley had 41 home runs in 1996)...The only other Met to put together back-to-back 30-home run campaigns was Dave Kingman, who hit 36 in 1975 and 37 in 1976.
- Finished 10th in the National League with 83 walks, seventh with a .549 slugging percentage, tied for fourth with a home run once every 13.9 times at-bat, tied for eighth with an RBI once every 4.8 times at-bat and was third with 16 intentional walks.

- Cracked his fourth career grand slam in the seventh inning on August 23rd against the Padres' Sean Bergman.
- Stole home on the back end of a double steal with Butch Huskey in the first inning at Yankee Stadium on June 16th...It was the first Met steal of home since Huskey accomplished the feat, June 19th in the second game of a doubleheader at Pittsburgh.
- Was only hitting .152 (7-46) with three home runs and nine RBI after his first 14 games through April 16th...Over his final 118 games, he hit .288 (107-371) with

- On the Disabled List, March 31-August 27, 1997 with a broken right wrist and tuberculosis.

1-0 GAMES

The Mets have an all-time record of 89-88 in games that have ended with 1-0 scores, including a 2-2 mark in 1997...The most 1-0 wins the Mets have had in any season were in 1969, when the club went 9-5...On September 29, 1993 the Mets and Cardinals battled for 16 scoreless innings before Jeff Kent's 17th-inning double plated the game's only run...A long evening, but not a club record...That honor belongs to the 1-0 Mets loss on April 15, 1968 when the Mets and Astros went 23 scoreless innings before Houston pushed across the winning run on an infield error.

TWO WINS IN ONE DAY

John Franco earned a save and a win (respectively) in a July 30th, 1996 doubleheader vs. the Pirates at Shea. Only three pitchers in Mets history—Craig Anderson in 1962, Willard Hunter in 1964 and Jesse Orosco in 1983—have won both ends of a doubleheader. Anderson did it on May 12, 1962, beating the Braves at the Polo Grounds 3-2 and 8-7 with a combined three innings of shutout relief. Hunter accomplished the feat on August 23, 1964 at Shea when 1.2 innings of no-hit shutout relief earned him 2-1 and 5-4 wins over Chicago. Orosco joined the group on July 31, 1983 at Shea when he held the Pirates scoreless over a total of five relief innings en route to a pair of 12-inning wins; 7-6 and 1-0.

10 STRAIGHT STRIKEOUTS

Tom Seaver set a major league record on April 22, 1970 at Shea, when he struck out 10 consecutive Padres. In the game he struck out 19.

The 10 in succession were:

Al Ferrara, called out to end the sixth inning.

Nate Colbert, swinging in the seventh.

Dave Campbell, called out in the seventh.

Jerry Morales, called out in the seventh.

Bob Barton, called out in the eighth.

Ramon Webster, batting for pitcher Mike Corkins, swinging in the eighth.

Ivan Murrell, batting for shortstop Jose Arcia, swinging in the eighth.

Van Kelly, swinging in the ninth.

Cito Gaston, called out in the ninth.

Al Ferrara, swinging at a 1-2 pitch to end the game.

Seaver won the game, 2-1, with San Diego's only run coming on a home run by Ferrara in the second inning, one of two Padres hits, the other being a single by Dave Campbell.

BROTHER ACTS

There have been over 335 brother combinations among approximately 15,000 players who have made it to the major leagues. Brothers Al Leiter and Mark Leiter have never faced each other in a major league game as rain canceled a scheduled meeting last season.

Here are some other brotherly notes:

Entering the 1998 season, two brothers have started against each other on 19 occasions.

The last time two brothers started against each other was August 29. 1996 when Ramon Martinez and the Dodgers defeated Pedro, 2-1, at Montreal.

There are nine brother tandems with 200 or more career wins: Phil and Joe Niekro lead the group with 539 combined wins. Gaylord and Jim Perry are the only other brother duo with more than 500 victories (529).

Greg Maddux of the Cubs defeated Mike of the Phillies, 8-3, on September 29, 1986 in the first match-up of rookie brothers in the majors.

The only pitcher to start against his brother in his first major league game was Pat Underwood, facing brother Tom of Toronto on May 31, 1979.

The first brothers to oppose each other as starting pitchers: Jesse and Virgil Barnes on May 3, 1927. Jesse of the Dodgers defeated Virgil and the Giants, 7-6.

Dizzy Dean pitched a one-hitter in the first game of a doubleheader and his brother Paul pitched a no-hitter in the second game, prompting Dizzy to say, "If I had known what Paul was gonna' do, I would have pitched one too."

The Forsch brothers are the only duo to pitch no-hitters (Bob, 4/16/78-St.L. vs. Phi. and Ken, 4/7/79-Hou. vs. Atl.).

Joe Niekro hit his only career home run off brother Phil on May 29, 1976 (The blow came in seventh inning and won the game, 4-3).

On July 20, 1969, Jim and Gaylord Perry combined to win three games.

Jim and Gaylord Perry also were the first brothers to win 20 games in the same year (1970).

The Alou brothers were the Giants starting outfield on September 15, 1963.

THE TRIPLE PLAY THAT ENDED THREE CAREERS

On September 30, 1962, the Mets were about to drop their record 120th game to the Cubs at Wrigley Field. Sammy Drake led off the top of the eighth with a pinch single. Richie Ashburn then singled Drake to second. The next hitter Joe Pignatano hit a broken bat looper behind second base. Thinking the ball was going to drop for a hit, the runners took off, but Ken Hubbs the Cubs second baseman made a leaping backhand stab on the grass and threw to Ernie Banks at first to retire Ashburn. Banks then relayed a throw to shortstop Andre Rogers at second to get Drake and complete the triple play. For Ashburn, who had been playing second base for only the second time in his career, it was the last play he was ever involved with as he left the game. Drake and Pignatano remained in the contest for the final frame, but neither would ever play another game.

- Was forced to leave a start, June 17th at Yankee Stadium, with a contusion of the left inner knee...The injury occurred when he was struck by a line drive off the bat of Luis Sojo.

THE BIG INNING

The biggest inning in Mets history? It's the 10-run bombardment that they unleashed against the Cincinnati Reds in the sixth inning at Shea on June 12, 1979. It was the keynote in a 12-6 victory.

The inning featured five hits and two Reds' errors as the Mets victimized three Cincinnati pitchers (Bill Bonham, Manny Sarmiento and Dave Tomlin) during the record assault.

Key hits during the inning were Frank Taveras' two-run double, Richie Hebner's two-run single and Doug Flynn's three-run, inside-the-park home run. The Mets went into the inning trailing, 5-2 and came out with a 12-5 lead.

CASEY'S LAST GAME

On Saturday afternoon, July 24, 1965 the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Mets at Shea, 5-1...The game would be the last in the distinguished career of manager Casey Stengel...Stengel was forced into retirement by a broken hip he would suffer later that night...Here are some details of the game:

Jim Bunning struck out 12, in tossing a two-hitter for the Phillies...Johnny Lewis had both Met hits including a solo home run in the fourth that provided New York's only run...Wes Covington went 3-3, with a double, a home run, and three RBI to lead the Phils...Richie Allen added three hits for Philadelphia and Dick Stuart cracked a home run.

RETIRED NUMBERS

On April 15, 1997 in a special ceremony at Shea Stadium, the chairman of the Major League Executive Council, Allan H. "Bud" Selig announced the retirement of the Jackie Robinson's uniform Number 42 throughout major league baseball.

"The day Jackie Robinson stepped on a major league field will forever be remembered as baseball's proudest moment," said Selig standing side-by-side with Jackie's widow Rachel and the President of the United States, Bill Clinton. "Major League Baseball is retiring Number 42 in tribute to his great achievements and for the significant contributions he made to society. Number 42 belongs to Jackie Robinson for the ages."

According to a news release sent out by the Office of the Commissioner that night: 'Number 42 will never again be issued by a major league club to any player or other on-field personnel, other than those who are currently wearing it. Those who are may wear them for the remainder of their careers.'

Butch Huskey, who wears 42 as a tribute to Robinson, will be the last Met to wear the number.

Tom Seaver is the only Met player to have his number retired. Number 41 was retired in a tribute at Shea Stadium on July 24, 1988.

Gil Hodges number 14 and Casey Stengel's 37 are also retired.

The Mets have hit into seven triple plays in their history. The most recent occurred in St. Louis on May 11, 1993 with Howard Johnson on second, Chico Walker on first and Todd Hundley batting. Hundley grounded to second baseman Geronimo Pena, who tossed to Ozzie Smith at second to retire Walker. The relay from Smith to first baseman Gregg Jefferies retired Hundley at first. Jefferies then threw back to Smith at second who tagged out Johnson for the third out.

RULES OF INTEREST

PLAYER LIMITS

40 until Opening Day, when the number must be reduced to 25 until September 1st, when it again becomes 40.

QUALIFYING MARKS

To qualify for the batting championship a player must have a minimum of 502 plate appearances. To qualify for earned run average leadership a pitcher must have at least 162 innings pitched.

DETERMINING SLUGGING PERCENTAGE

Divide the total bases of all hits by the total times at-bat, (at-bats do not include walks, hit by pitches, and sacrifice flies, or times awarded first base because of interference or obstruction).

DETERMINING ON-BASE PERCENTAGE

Add the total of hits, walks, and hit by pitches and divide by the total of at-bats, walks, hit by pitches, and sacrifice flies.

CONSECUTIVE-GAME HITTING STREAK

A consecutive-game hitting streak shall not be terminated if all the player's plate appearances (one or more) result in a base on balls, hit batsman, defensive interference or a sacrifice bunt. The streak shall terminate if the player has a sacrifice fly and no hit.

CONSECUTIVE-GAME PLAYING STREAK

A consecutive-game playing streak shall be extended if the player plays one half-inning on defense, or if he completes a time at bat by reaching base or being put out. A pinch-running appearance only shall not extend the streak. If a player is ejected from a game by an umpire before he can comply with the requirements of this rule, his streak shall continue.

TRADING REGULATIONS

Players are available on waivers in reverse order of standings, at the time waivers expire, if more than 30 days after start of the season; otherwise in reverse order of standings at close of preceding season.

INTER-LEAGUE AND INTRA-LEAGUE TRADES

No waivers necessary from 5 p.m., Eastern time, the day after the scheduled end of the regular season through July 31st. Waivers are necessary from August 1st through 5 p.m., eastern time, the day after the scheduled end of the regular season.

DETERMINING THE MAGIC NUMBER

Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

DETERMINING A MAJOR LEAGUE YEAR

172 days constitute a full year in the Major Leagues.

ROOKIE RULE

The Baseball Writers Association of America considers a player a rookie unless during the previous season or seasons he has (a) exceeded 130 at-bats or 50 innings pitched in the Major Leagues, or, (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a Major League club, excluding military service, during the 25-man limit. The 25-player limit is in effect from Opening Day through August 31st.
